Two faster and better games have not been seen than the brace played by the mer Furniture. It is made of the grass of the prairie, which rivals reed for strength and is Baltimores and Washington in the former city yesterday. It was the first double-header of the season, and, in spite of the skies, which, just before the first game. skies, which, just before the first game, threatened to pour rain, nearly 3,000 people attended. Washington won the first game, tistically shaped Chairs, Ta- 3 to 2, and Baltimore landed the second, 7 to 3, making an even break on getaway day. After the game both teams left for the west, Baltimore to begin a series in vised is better suited for the 4 Chicago and Washington in Detroit to-In the first game the opposing pitchers were McGinnity and Lee, and they managed their affairs in scientific manner. Lee was made the victim of a couple of bunts in the first inning of the game, by merit of which the Orioles gathered two runs. After that Lee's delivery was absolutely unhitable. His control was marvelously perfect. He could trim the edges of the plate as he pleased, and worked the balls high and low just as easy as a country ur-chin works a pump handle. Then he had a quick-breaking outcurve that fooled them all. McGinnity, too, was in fine fettle, and he would have won his game by the score of 2 to 1 but for two misplays by himself.

To lose such a game was no discredit, for not only did Lee pitch superbly, but, as often occurs under the circumstances. as often occurs under the circumstances, he was supported in gitt-edge style. The Senators knew that they ought to win with such twirling, and they played hard

The visitors tied the score of the first game in the seventh inning by the sort of ball known to fame as "Baltimore ball." It was a play that would have delighted Ed Hanion. Here was the situation: At the opening of the seventh Baltimore had two runs and Washington none, and it didn't seem that they would get any, so good was the Iron Man. Farrell started the seventh by hitting to left, the second clean hit for the Senators. Donlin fumbled the ball and Farrell went to second. Dungan hit toward third and beat it, and Farrell went to third. The rooters were now on uneasy street, as a hit was as big as a month's house rent, and the Birds but two runs to the good, without any reasonable chance of making any more off Lee's pitching. Clarke sent a sky-scraper, which McGinnity caught on foul ground, and the pres-sure grew easier. Foster shoved one into center field, and Farrell scored; but Dun-gan was held on second. Coughlin fied to Brodle, and Quinn made a hit to right, on at Jackson, Mich., and owned by Edgar which Dungan went to third. If Clingmand, Bronk of New York. Star Pugh was the at the bat, could be retired, the Birds would yet have a lead of one run; but if Clingman game nothing counts out bunts. Hits are practically impossible. The Orioles' two runs in the first inning were results of bunts; the score was tied by merit of a bunt, and, finally, the game was won by a bunt. In the eighth Farrell dropped a bunt down between pitch and first base. McGinnity got the ball in time to catch the runner at first, but tossed it over Hart's head, and before he could capture it again Farrell had gone to third, to win the game by scoring

The first two runs in the first inning, that put Baltimore at all in the game, came as the results of bunts by Dunn and Donlin, the pair scoring on Quinn's error and hits by Seymour and Brodle. Except for the features named, it was simply a pitchers' contest, with the men usually retiring in order. For four innings neither Baltimora nor Washington made a hit, and, excepting when scoring was done, the hits were poor, lonely things that bene-fited no one. The score:

Second Game. Baltimore won the second game with comparative ease. Both Foreman and Carrick pitched well, but they did not display the same science as in the opening contest. Both started out well and it looked as if there would be another exciting finish. The players seemed somewhat tired and the fielding on both sides was not up to the standard of the first. He suddenly stopped and then started back toward the fence. He made game efforts to capture the ball, but did not succeed until after it reached the fence. Dungan all the while was legging it around the bases, and had he been a fast runner would have made a home run. He scored on Clarke's single. Donlin filed to Dungan, Williams worked a pass and advanced to second on Clarke's wild throw to catch him, scoring Dunn. Williams tried to make third, but was thrown out by Farrell, who captured Clarke's throw. Two more runs were scored by Baltimore in the fifth inning. Hart started the inning by working a free pass. He stole second and, by the way, was the only man to steal a base in the two games. He scored on Robinson's two-bagger to left field. Robbie went to third on Foreman's hit to left, and scored on Dunn's out, Carrick to Dungan. Donlin and Williams filed to center field. Baltimore scored its last two runs in the eighth inning. Perfect Weather and Good Racing at Detroit Meeting Yesterday. Perfect weather, splendid racing and a large crowd combined yesterday afternoon, at Detroit, to make the thirteenth annual blue ribbon meeting of the Detroit Driving Club and the opening of the grand trotting circuit on the Grosse Pointe track a success. The sun was hot enough to bring out all the speed in the horses, and a gentle breeze kept the occupants of the stand comfortable

The feature of the afternoon-the chamber of commerce stake of $5,000 for 2.24 class pacers-was won with comparative ease by Star Pugh, a chestnut stallion bred favorite in the betting, although there was onsiderable play on Harry Plenty, a bay gelding, owned by Goodell brothers of Sloux City.

In the first heat Star Pugh took the lead at the start and held it to the wire, with Harry Logan second. Logan got off in the into the back stretch Pugh went out in front and stayed there. In the last heat Pugh led all the way.

The first event of the afternoon, the 2.14 trot, was won by Lady Thisbe, after Dr. Book had taken the first two heats. Palm Leaf all but nosed the fourth heat away Ida Highwood, the favorite, lost the first heat of the 2.20 trot because of a break at the start, but took the second and third with little trouble. In the 2.06 pace Edith W. forced Hetty G., the favorite, to go in 2.05\% to win the first heat, and Riley B. made a bid for the second heat.

Today is "M. and M. day," when the famous Merchants and Manufacturers' stake of $10,000 for 2.24-class trotters will

NELSON TO RACE CHAMPION.

Twenty-Mile Motor Paced Contest at the Coliseum Friday Night. If weather permits, a twenty-mile motor cycle track Friday night, and the event will testants in the twenty-mile race will be Johnny Nelson, the little Swede, and Albert Champion, champion of France. In addition to the big race an excellent program has been prepared for the amateurs.

Nelson does not need an introduction to the Washington public, for it was only during the latter part of June that he made his debut in one of the prettiest races ever run off on the local bowl. At that time he defeated Burns Pierce, the Canadian crack, and in the last mile of the race the plucky little rider broke the world's record for the mile in competition. He lowered the record established by Harry Elkes at the opening meet at the Coliseum. So far this season he has been wonderfully successful in his rac-ing, and although he has met with a few accidents, all of which were to his machine, he is still winning races wherever he goes. He is about the size of Jimmy Michael and rides much on the same order as the little Welch rabbit."

Nelson began riding last season about the middle of May, and has been in forty-eight events since that time, winning forty and losing eight. During the present season Nelson has won nine out of eleven races. He is booked for forty great races during July, August and September, against all the leading men in the field. He is game and a fighter and always looks upon sevelfighter, and always looks upon a cycle race very seriously. He rides against every competitor with the firm opinion that his last race is his hardest, and he never treats an antagonist lightly as regards ability nor counts upon an easy proposition. Like Michael, Nelson is provided with the very best of pacers, and, with one exception, has not lost a race on account of an accident to his machines.

Albert Champion has just completed his riding in a six-day race at Boston, where he finished in third place in the Golden Wheel race. He met with several accidents in the earlier stage of the race, but he rode pluckily to the finish. He is known all over the world, and has raced on both continents, holding records which have never been equaled. He is a strong rider and of the dare-devil type, which he probably acquired while riding with his partner, Fournier. He is a very erratic and sensational quired while riding with his partner, Fournier. He is a very erratic and sensational rider and dares everything for victory. He is considered the most remarkable rider ever produced by France, and since his arrival in this country this season he defeated Archie McEachern, which was his greatest achievement. The affair was closely contested and Champion was obliged to ride as he had never ridden before to defeat the northerner. Five years ago in Paris he was as he had never ridden before to deteat the northerner. Five years ago in Paris he won twenty-one races without a skip in seven months of racing. He has twice won the famous Golden Wheel race at Berlin and

TAYLOR PAYS HIS FINE. Settles With Race Promoters and

Will Go on the Circuit. "Major" Taylor, who was recently fined for failing to appear at two circuit meets of the National Cycling Association, has paid his fines, and will take his place on the track this week. Those in a position to know explain that Taylor cannot go into retirement under suspicion that he fears to meet Frank Kramer on the circuit. It would be more in line with his policy to endeavor to "wallop" Kramer and other formidable championship candidates before closing his racing career. Taylor's overtures for a match with John Nelson seem to bear out this prediction.

The following telegram was received in this city today from Mr. C. Ross Klosterman of Hartford, Conn., chairman of the they became nervous and errors followed. rack Players of the Country Are Contesting at Cincinnati. The tennis tournament under the auspices of the Interstate League of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky opened at the courts of the Avondale Athletic Club, Cincinnati, yesterday. Yesterday's contests were devoted to men's doubles and singles. The ladles' games are scheduled to follow later in the week. Many of the best players in the country are there, including R. D. Little and F. B. Alexander of New York, Miss McAteer of Pittsburg and Miss Atkinson engraving, the former coming out victorious by 6 to 5. The game was closely contested. The treasury boys took the lead in the first inning and held it until the eighth, when the money makers tied the score, but to no advantage, as the treasury nine won out in the last half of the ninth by fast work on the bases. The pitching of Herring of the treasury team and Leech of the bureau was excellent. The former proved of Brooklyn. The scores: R. D. Both nines fielded fairly well, each making four errors, most of which were of an excusable kind.

The officers of the league held a meeting last evening and several changes were made in the schedule. Mr. Field of the Treasury Department was elected official umpire, and under his supervision the games will hereafter be played. It was also agreed that no more than four men not employed in the department shall be allowed on a department team. Nat Emerson, champion of Ohio, beat P. D. McQueston of Chicago, 6—2, 4—6, 6—3.
